

Objective 6 Quiz

1. _____ are self-feeders.
2. _____ feed on others.
3. Give three examples of oil crops.
4. _____ is considered the terminal, irreversible deteriorative change in living organisms which leads to plant death.
5. Plants can be classified by their usage, such as vegetable plants are food crops.
 - a. True
 - b. False
6. Over half of the world's food supply comes from the plant group _____.
7. _____ leads all the cereal grains in total volume.
8. Corn, as produced in Tennessee for grain, could be properly classified as a _____ plant.
9. Corn oil content is typically _____ percent.
10. An important cereal crop serving as a basic food for over ½ of the world population is _____.
11. Discuss what you know about wheat.
12. Soybean cultivars are grouped according to their response to _____.
13. In order to get a maximum yield of good quality hay, the plants should be harvested _____ stage of growth.
14. Most climacteric fruits show an increased respiration pattern when ripening off the tree.
 - a. True
 - b. False
15. Match the appropriate term to the definition

a. hay	the production of two crops, one following another, during one growing season
b. silage	the process of baling silage in plastic wrap
c. baleage	growth of a single species in a given area
d. no-till	simultaneously producing two or more crops in the same field
e. monoculture	is moist forage, preserved by bacterial fermentation under anaerobic conditions
f. double-cropping	shoots and leaves of forage plants that are preserved by field drying, harvesting and storing for future use

g. intercropping

system in which new crop is seeded directly in a field in which the preceding crop was cut down or destroyed rather than being removed